Identify a search area

To search for a local land charge, you will need to identify a property or area of land. We call this a search area.

Not all local authority areas are currently available to search on this system. For these areas you will need to contact the local authority.

Search by postcode or street name

For example, 'SE5 9QY' or 'High Street'

- Search by map
- Search by title number
- Search by INSPIRE ID

Contact HM Land Registry on 0300 006 0444 if you are struggling to use this service

By starting a search you agree to our terms of use. For further information about the service see Practice Guide 79.

Continue

- The option can be found on the right of the screen as indicated in red above.
- The user is then able to proceed to enter geographic coordinates for a point using Easting and Northing numerical values

- Once entered, the map is cantered at that particular point.
- The user will then need to use the map tools to define a search area
- We hope that this new function will assist in conducting searches where the coordinates are known already, and entering an address is either not an option or does not take a user close enough to the area they need to search.

Draw a search area

The map shows the location of the search coordinates.

To continue, you will need to draw a search area on the map.

Use 'Add area' to draw a search area on the map. You can also edit and delete areas.
