Service: Search for local land charges

- New 'Searches we recommend you repeat' page

Search service customers on GOV.UK will now see a new section under 'My Account' if any repeat searches are recommended.

The need to repeat a search will only arise in the event of a late registration of a local land charge affecting a free search result a customer has conducted. An email linking directly to this new section will be sent to the customer if it has been identified that they have searches we recommend they repeat.

The searches in question are listed and can easily be repeated from this section.
